

4th Annual

Dress Up 2 Cure Day!

Get your school involved with this great cause!

what: Simple! Kids get to dress up silly on April Fools' Day in exchange for bringing in spare change to support Rett Syndrome research!

why: April is Autism Awareness Month. The most severe form of autism is called Rett Syndrome and it almost exclusively affects girls. Every 90 minutes another girl is born with this devastating disorder which robs her of hand use, speech and the ability to walk.

when: Thursday, April 1, 2010 (or another more convenient day in April!)

where: your school

how: We'll provide you with step-by-step instructions and everything you will need to make this day an easy, memorable, worthwhile day for your students. We even provide your school its own web page to upload photos and connect with other schools across the country who are joining in!

sign up online: www.dressup2cure.org/schools

all proceeds go to Rett Syndrome Research

Your school will also receive a Curriculum Guide which includes educational activities for all grade levels.

Your students will experience Disability Awareness, as well as hands-on activities.
